

GREAT LEADERS INDORSE HOOVERAmbassador Herrick Frowns on Smith Policies*Head of Large Banking House for G.O.P. Candidate*Financier Says New York Will Go for Him*BY ROBERT R. ARMSTRONG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Herbert Hoover today received the endorsement for the White House of two great figures of the world. One is Ambassador Herrick, who was a visitor to Hoover yesterday, and the other is Otto Kahn, head of the international banking firm of Kuhn Loeb & Co. He received several other delegations of visitors anxious to see him before he leaves for Europe in Washington. The rest of the time he spent in preparing his speech to be delivered at St. Louis tomorrow night. En route to the Missouri capital he will speak at Cumberland, Md., and Louisville, Ky.

At other places he will make brief speeches from the rear platform of his car but they will, of course, be more informal and in the way of greeting than a discussion of issues.

With Ambassador Herrick arrived in Washington today he was interrogated as to his views on Gov. Smith's speech Wednesday night in Boston—on State socialism—and as to the results of its operation in Europe. He replied:

"I thought the United States had determined that question as an economic long ago, after unsuccessful and sporadic experiments during and immediately after the war."

PLAN FAILED IN EUROPE

The experience of Europe having been under my immediate observation for the past many years I shudder at the thought that there should be any prospect in America for government ownership and operation while Europe stands as to such a dismal failure in this regard.

The ownership, control and management of the railways and other instrumentalities by the government have proved such a dismal failure.

"One human quality upon which the success of the American State depends, to my mind, more than any other, and one which must be preserved and fostered, is individualism. Individualism is a vital quality of the citizenship of any country, and should be nurtured and encouraged, for it is the natural, fundamental quality of the free people and the conduct of the business of a country by the State is destructive of these inherent qualities.

NATION'S POSITION

"Our country's position among the nations at present is a gratifying one." By the fortunes of the war, we became a creditor nation. As a result in lieu of shiploads of gold that were sent across the ocean to Europe to help finance European holders of our securities we now see shiploads of gold coming back to America from Europe to pay our own coupons. These are the terms of the securities which America holds—a reversal of the old-time conditions. One of the first results that I see is the vast number of loans to European countries. I do not mean to the nations, but to individuals and other enterprises which are involved in Europe. This has resulted in giving fresh impetus to Poland, Belgium, Italy and other nations. Much has been loaned since the war to legitimate safe enterprises in these countries. It has brought in money to help them prosper by leaps and bounds.

"I must confess considerable alarm in view of past experience of our country in politics when I see any tendency of our people to make any changes which will endanger this prosperity, which, of course, is not only of great endanger this prosperity, which, of course, is not only of great danger to the nation but to the world.

Individualism is a vital quality of the citizenship of any country, and should be nurtured and encouraged, for it is the natural, fundamental quality of the free people and the conduct of the business of a country by the State is destructive of these inherent qualities.

OIL LAND CASE FIGHT PRESSED

Government Pushes Contest on California Acreage

Fall Action Barring Inquiry Target for Attack

Court Has Difficulty Getting Necessary Data

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The government's attack upon the action taken in 1921 by Albert E. Fall as Secretary of the Interior in refusing to order an investigation of the title of the Standard Oil Company to land next the Elk Hills naval oil reserve in California was pressed today in the Supreme Court.

W. C. Morrow closed his arguments begun yesterday, as counsel for the government, and was followed by Oscar Suro for the com-plaintiffs. Members of the court expressed difficulty in obtaining from counsel for both sides information which they declared they need to guide them in deciding the case, while involved an injunction issued by the Federal courts here restraining the Secretary of the Interior from making an inquiry into the title of the company to the land. They also disagreed upon counsel and some spoke rather sharply as the argument proceeded.

While counsel for the company was insisting that Secretary Fall had closed the matter so firmly that it could not be reopened, Justice Frank Murphy said he would reopen it for further action. Justice

Van Den Bergh, who at one time was Assistant Attorney-General, assigned to the Interior Department, declared that from the reading of the record he had found that Fall would not have paid any attention to what Fall did.

Counsel for the government directed his arguments to the contention that Fall had done nothing which would have enabled the government to present evidence and that the order he issued in 1921 could not have the effect of precluding the present Secretary of Interior from making the investigation.

Counsel for the oil company insisted that Fall's action was binding and conclusive and that the present Secretary of the Interior

Engine trouble forced pair down near Senegal

PARIS, Oct. 25. (AP)—Two French air-mail pilots named Serre and Reine, who were captured by wild tribesmen three months ago when they made a forced landing in the wild Rio de Oro region of Spanish Africa, were safe today.

The Spanish government announced that the men were well and healthy.

Engine trouble forced the airmen down in the wild country as they were flying toward Dakar, Senegal, west mail for South America.

Serre and Reine were captured by tribesmen who demanded a ransom of $160,000. Other tribes, getting wind of the affair, rushed up and fought over the two captives.

While French and Spanish authorities negotiated for the release of the airmen, the pilots were dragged about from place to place and suffered numerous privations.

They passed through hope and despair alternately as negotiations went on.

The negotiations faced a difficult task as the tribesmen demands grew daily and it was impossible to do anything to deliver the airmen because it was feared such a move might bring about their death.

All obstacles finally were overcome by the combined efforts of Capt. Du Bouet, French naval commissioner, a representative of the French colonial administration and the air-mail company. The terms on which the release was obtained are not announced.

BRITON DEFENDS TREATY SILENCE

Churchill Tells Why Naval Pact Was Guarded

EPPING, ESSEX (Eng.) Oct. 25. (AP)—A decision of the British Cabinet delaying publication of the Anglo-French naval compromise was made by Winston Churchill, here last night. He said:

"When there is nothing of any serious consequence to make public, it is very difficult to make it public. When an agreement is reached between Britain and France to leave off criticizing various points in each other's technical armaments is a step forward to the larger measure for possible world disarmament. There is no reason why it should not be made public until the different powers to whom we had communicated it, including the United States, had replied to the communication."

Idaho Gridders Prepare for Battle with U.C.L.A. Tomorrow

VANDALS AWAIT BRUIN PLAYERS

Charley Ehr's Team Puzzles Football Experts

Stanford Slaughter Has Put Contest Up in Air

Local Outfit May Have Even Chance to Cop Tilt

PORLAND (Or.) Oct. 25.—The University of Idaho football team, home from its Stanford disaster, is now trying to round into shape for its game in Moscow Saturday with the University of California at Los Angeles. A few weeks ago Idaho had visions of playing on even terms with the best of the conference teams. The hopes were completely shattered at San Francisco, and it is realized that there is only an even chance to beat U.C.L.A. newcomer in the conference.

Just what has happened to Idaho is a puzzle to the fans. On paper Ehr appears to have a good team, with the likes of Big Mike whose weight matches up with the heaviest of the Conference teams. It is largely because of these beefy boys that the expression "Idaho power" is used, but in view of the Vandals' performance it is little more than a meaningless phrase. The ends proved Idaho's undoing against Stanford. The Cards had some trouble with the center of the line, but the end zones were easily in striking distance, and when that can be done all is lost.

Kirkpatrick, Idaho's veteran center, has been out the past two games, but he is expected to be in the lineup against the U.C.L.A. Kershnik, fullback and tackle, the greatest player on the squad, is still sidelined with an injury received before the opening of the season. He has been playing only part time and he is not likely to be in Saturday's game all night. Red, halfback who was shifted to end, is injured and may be able to go to somebody else.

The only new man Price tried out at all against the Trojans was Joe Coffel, and he was only in for one play. Starting the second half Price sent him forth to kick off. His first effort went out of bounds on the Trojan 5-yard line, and the second sailed over the end zone. This was all Price wanted, and Coffel was removed after his educated toe had prevented the Trojans from running the ball back.

It's nothing new to send a man in just to kick a goal from touchdown or try a field goal, but to use a man only on the kick-off and then kick him is quite a departure. It's one for the books.

FIELDS IS FAVORITE

AFTER peering more or less at Jackie Fields in the gymnasium for several days or so I can find no reason for qualifying a prediction that the classy local welterweight will beat the fighting sergeant, Sammy Baker, at Wrigley Field next Tuesday night.

This prophecy will not hurt the gate receipts in the slightest because there are plenty of ring bugs who will disagree, and it is such disagreement that brings out the cash customers.

And my opponents are not without plenty of support for their arguments. Sergeant Sammy has been a giant killer in the past two years—the devastator of the welterweight division. He slew Ace Hudkins and Musky Callahan when they were at their peak. He just recently polished off Young Corbett, who was sent to New York as a great Coast prospect. He has been dodged consistently by Joe Dundee, the welter king.

But my boy Jackie is the fastest thing on two feet of his weight. How can he set a pace and how can he hold it? And his record is something to be proud of, crowned by easy victory over Young Jack Thompson, who a scant two months ago knocked out Dundee in two rounds.

But for a slight technicality Thompson would have been the champion when he kayoed Dundee, and Fields in turn would have ascended the throne when he belted Thompson all over a San Francisco ring.

So, in reality, Fields stands very much in the role of a champion and Baker in the part of challenger when they clash Tuesday night. And my pick is the champion against the giant killer.

FOR weeks now the grand-slam coaches at California have been yelping for a sight of young Mr. Garrity in actual gridiron competition. So far he has been restricted to practice scrimmage and bench warming when the Bears are playing a game although bailed by "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's as the best line plunger on the Coast.

But finally, according to the news dispatches, he's going to get a chance against the strong Olympic Club team tomorrow. Some of the boys were sure he was destined for action against the Trojans last Saturday, but none of the chaps who were warmed up as substitutes on the sideline turned out to be Garrity. And I'll bet there were hundreds of examinations during the game when some man came in for the Bears. "There comes Garrity." But it always turned out to be somebody else.

The only new man Price tried out at all against the Trojans was Joe Coffel, and he was only in for one play. Starting the second half Price sent him forth to kick off. His first effort went out of bounds on the Trojan 5-yard line, and the second sailed over the end zone. This was all Price wanted, and Coffel was removed after his educated toe had prevented the Trojans from running the ball back.

It's nothing new to send a man in just to kick a goal from touchdown or try a field goal, but to use a man only on the kick-off and then kick him is quite a departure. It's one for the books.

A FIGHTING CHANCE

HERE is a fighting chance for U.C.L.A. to make things interesting for Idaho in their conference tilt at Moscow, Idaho, tomorrow. "Sturdy" Sturmenegger scooted the Stanford-Idaho game at San Francisco last week, and he saw a pair of ends offer slight resistance to Fay Warner's Formation "B" in the second half.

In the first half some fair tackle play and some really courageous defensive work by Kershnik, the Vandal fullback, kept Stanford from scoring more than once.

But without Kershnik to help them out in the second half the Idaho forwards went completely to pieces. And if the big fullback was bunged up too badly in the Stanford fray to be himself again, the Bruins the latter have a swell chance to cash in on his misfortune. I haven't seen a man this year who seemed so invaluable to his team.

A WATCH FOR DON

ANOTHER gesture in its custom of rewarding outstanding stars of the sport world Hollywood Legion Stadium will present Don Williams with one of his famous wrist watches at the weekly lights tonight. Dynamic Don, a Trojan luminary for the past two years, is even more so in his senior term and his last on the U.S.C. varsity. And I'll venture to say that Dynamic Don is given a bigger cheer than most of the illustrious who have been so dignified by this striking Hollywood token. The public does like its football heroes, and Don Williams is nothing else but.

POLY AND MANUAL COLLIDE

The Trojans got the jump in the Hollywood game and won under raps and there are many who believe that they have enough power to push the Mechanics back for a victory today. Mechanics, which contains many stars in Carl and Cashill, is one of the biggest in the circuit and has not been scored on this year.

Over in the Poly camp Coach Breinen is figuring on starting a new attack with Fred Capo, Jimmy Young, Dalton, LaVelle and McBride—to pound the Manual forwards and then shove in Franny Kiffel and French, two speedsters, to try and damage the Trojans with speed. The Mechanics forward will be the same as the team which repulsed the Romans last week—Brown and Strutzel, ends; Kieffel and Barthels, tackles; Kieffel and Barthels, guards; Hill and Brill, guards, and Costes, center.

COMMERCIAL CAGERS ANNEX BEAR TITLE

BERKELEY, Oct. 25. (Exclusive)—By defeating the college of law quintet, 36-18, in the final match of the annual intercollegiate basketball championships of the University of California, the college of commerce captured the 1928 title. The winning points were chalked up principally through the efforts of Gorman and Bits, forwards; Harry Stuckey, a forward on the university varsity squad, was high point man for the losers. He could not overcome the commerce squad's highly organized team play however.

Don Williams to Get Legion Wrist Watch at Bout

BY KAY OWE

A pair of the outstanding featherweights in the country will go to the post tonight as the main-eventers at the Hollywood American Legion stadium.

Harry Dublinski of Chicago meets Ignacio Fernandez, the Philippines' ruling favorite.

Before the main event Don Williams, Trojan quarterback, will be called to the center of the ring and receive a gold Hollywood Post, No. 43, American Legion. After the presentation Williams will be introduced to the boxing fans.

This shouldn't be any doubt about action prevailing in the main event. Filipino fighters are the last word when it comes to throwing gloves. Ignacio Fernandez also packs a sock. He looks set to outbox any San Jose Alan Whittier within a month and unless Dublinski is a pretty good fighter he will take the goods.

The best boost that Dublinski has is the fact that which Meyers took him away from Chicago. Meyers knows the local fight situation if anyone does and he is confident that the latest addition to his fighting stable will deliver the goods.

Barry Galfund, a Brooklyn fighter, meets Frankie Forbes in the semi-wind-up. The record book shows that Galfund has twice kayed Sergi Sammy Baker and Galfund claims that Baker will Galfund would like the winner of the Fields-Baker fight, and if he gets over Forbes tonight he is going to challenge the winner. Baker is rated a great fighter, but it is doubtful about his willingness to meet Galfund.

The special event ought to be a corking good bout. Clayton Gouy meets Mateo Magdalena, and Gouy is favorite because he is the more rugged of the two and figures to win.

Regina Palmieri and Carlo Navia will be one of the four-round shots and Phil Blood will meet Bert Sampson in the other.

SAMMY BAKER POSTS FORFEIT

Baker, Katz and Bagley is that they missed suspension in California and old New York as well by three seconds.

With the bout definitely set principals carried on their training at a vigorous clip.

Baker spent five rounds in the ring with "Red" Wells at the Manhattan, while Fields engaged in eight at the Mainstreet gym with Saller, Carter, Johnny Lamar and Joe Massie.

In addition, Fields punched the light bag and shadow boxed while he did a mile and a half on the road in the morning.

Willie (Gig) Rooney, manager of Fields, believes his charge has had enough though he says he will visit him up this morrow with another mile and a half spin.

TRAUNG GOES GOLFING

Between now and Sunday, when Fields will end his boxing, Trainer Ralph Volk said that Fields will continue to box about six rounds daily, working with the same boys as he engaged in the gymnasium yesterday.

Baker has fought four times in the past four weeks, and is not training as strenuously as Fields for fear of getting too fine.

With Baker's weight forfeit question satisfactorily disposed of, Charles Traung, chairman of State Athletic Commission, has been here from San Francisco for a few days, dashed out to the gold links for a friendly test with Jack Doyle, Mike Shannon and another confederate of the grand and royal.

Mr. Traung returns to the north this morning, but will be back for the Wrigley Field fight Tuesday.

FURTHER DELAY FOR NORTHCOTT

Nonarrival of Affidavits Forces Inaction
Youthful Murder Suspect Gets New Remand
Defendant Displays Growing Nervousness in Court

VANCOUVER (B.C.) Oct. 25. (UPI)—Another eight days' delay in the already protracted proceedings by which the State of California hopes to return Gordon Stewart Northcott for trial was granted today by County Judge Cayley when the young murder suspect appeared before the court for the fourth time.

On the motion of R. L. Maitland, counsel for the State of California, Judge Cayley remanded the case until next Friday. Frank Lyons, attorney for Northcott, concurred in Maitland's request for the postponement.

In asking the further delay Maitland said that affidavits relating to the supposed murders of the Winslow boys and the Mexican, whose headless body was found near Penticton, Cal., had not yet arrived in Vancouver. He said he did not wish to proceed today with the evidence relating to the Walter Collins slaying alone.

Northcott, who listened attentively to the brief court proceedings, appeared more nervous than at any time since his arrest early last month, but it was said by his guards to be because he was under his confinement in Oshawa prison, near here.

LETTERS UNearthed IN NORTHCOTT HOME

Two letters which may have an important bearing on the asserted slaying of a Filipino or Mexican youth by Gordon Stewart Northcott in his parents' Bremerton-street home here were found yesterday afternoon in the house by Deputy Sheriff Bright, the officer announced last night.

While he intended to make the contents of the missives public, he declared they are of such a nature as to warrant investigation.

The letters were found shortly after the Sheriff's office made an examination of the premises for additional evidence before fumigators, who followed them, took over the task of ridding the house of fleas which have overrun the house and grounds. Two condemned prisoners with a fumigating apparatus worked several hours at the task.

FATHER TO RETURN

Gordon G. Northcott, father of the accused youth and wife, Jessie Clark asserts, told her he knew his son and wife were "destroying evidence" at the Wineville chicken farm, will be brought to Los Angeles next week with his wife, Miss Young, Clark, who told in detail of the asserted chicken-farm murders, and the elderly Northcott, will be questioned at length by Los Angeles officers, Bright said.

Bright yesterday began a telegraphic search for Los Angeles county extradition papers which apparently have been lost en route to Canada. He said the papers should have arrived there several days ago.

EVIDENCE COMPILED

Compilation and assorting of all the evidence of the four asserted murders now charged to Northcott was started yesterday by Bright's office preparatory to trying Northcott in Los Angeles court when he is tried at Riverside. Local charges are based on the murder of the youth whose headless body was found last February at Penticton, but the entire case will be gone into by local officials to aid Riverside authorities, Bright said.

The long postponement in Northcott's Vancouver hearing probably will delay his departure for California, if extradition is ordered, for more than a month longer, officials here said.

Ex-Legislator Sentenced for Part in Robbery

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (UPI)—Former Representative Charles S. Wharton was denied a motion for a new trial and sentenced to two years in the Federal prison at Leavenworth today by Federal Judge Wilkerson on a charge of conspiracy to rob the United States mail. A stay of execution until November 19 was granted.

Wharton, who also was a former Assistant State Attorney, was accused of aiding Charles (Limp) Cleaver and others in the $12,000 Grand Central mail train last February. Cleaver was sentenced to twenty-five years in Atlanta prison.

The former Representative was asserted to have permitted Cleaver to remain in his home for dividing the plunder after the robbery, which he received $4,000 as his share.

Are Women shrewder buyers of real estate than Men?

WHEN 3,250 women will buy directly or urge the purchase of $6,500,000 worth of property in one community within a few years as happened at Palisades Del Rey, there must be something very appealing to the feminine mind about that property. We believe that thousands of other Southern California women will feel the same way about this clean, nearby seaside community which is so unlike the usual beach settlements. This announcement—one of a series—is for women. The limits of space permit our only hinting at the marvels of this ocean-front garden spot. We suggest an early personal investigation of the new UNIT SUPREME shortly to be publicly offered.

OUR AMBITION for years has been to have a home that would excite the comment and admiration of our friends. But we have found that a total investment of $12,000 could do no more than give us a very mediocre home in an ordinary district. Today with the same amount of money in our house at Del Rey, we are sitting on top of the world—the broad expanse of the Pacific Ocean is ours. Our visiting friends retain a lasting impression of our seaside home."

PROPERTY ALONG THE OCEAN IS SCARCE. I don't know anything about what men call the law of supply and demand and I don't want to. But I know that when anything good is scarce and in demand it rises in price readily."

A new ocean front unit, the UNIT SUPREME, is shortly to be offered to the public at Palisades Del Rey. It contains all the advantages offered in the previous tracts which sold so quickly.

HERE you will find the same unspoiled, homelike atmosphere that has made the previous tracts so popular. Here you will find the same advantages and improvements which have brought success to the earlier tracts. *

"WE bought a residential site at Palisades Del Rey when your first tract was offered. Paid $3995 for it. I've been offered $11,000. My price is $12,000. I guess that answers your question, doesn't it?"

"WHEN we came out to California, the first thing we went to see was the ocean. I was sadly disappointed. The beaches reminded me of the street fairs back in the middle-west. Palisades Del Rey with its cleanliness and unmarred beauty is exactly what I always imagined the seaside to be."

"I looked all around Los Angeles before buying at Palisades Del Rey. Why shouldn't we buy here. It doesn't cost any more than property in the congested city. It's as close as or closer than most of the best. And look at the extra advantages here, the bracing ocean breezes, the wonderful view, the recreation opportunities plus all the improvements found in the city."

"I bought because it's selling so fast. Where real estate is moving that's where you make money."

"WHY SHOULD I send my boys away to college when they can live here at home in this beautiful seaside garden spot and attend Loyola University. I bought when the building started there. Tied to apron strings is all nonsense. Go down on the beach and ask the boys if they want to be cooped up in a dormitory or boarding house."

"WE DON'T OWN A LOT at Palisades Del Rey. We bought one for an investment two years ago, paid about $4,000 and sold it recently for $6,000. We expect to buy again in the new unit."

"WE LIKE CALIFORNIA because of its climate. Why not get the climate at its best, I say. At Palisades Del Rey in summer when it is

Going Through the Store

Entering from Grand Avenue one steps into a salon with the exotic charm of old Spain—vivid with the romance of a country permeated with the medieval influence. In both the furniture and the treatment of the travertine walls and columns, replete with gold-fringe, the austere spirit of Spain dominates, creating a native feeling of colorful simplicity. This room strikes an unusual note, combining beauty with dignity and the quiet charm one likes to associate with one's own home. In this lovely setting will be found coats, wraps, tailleur, furs and millinery.

One enters the Regence Room, which reflects a fidelity to historic traditions. It is a room of classic beauty...of flawless elegance characteristic of the Regence period, which was inspired in that brief interval, after the somber simplicity of Louis the Fourteenth and before the flamboyant elaboration of Louis the Fifteenth. The shimmering glow of crystals is infused with a delicate blending of faded green walls and rich colorings of egg yellow damask, relieved by Du Barry rose. Dignity is exquisitely maintained in the walnut furniture of true French inspiration. Here, not alone the charm of the appointments, but the comfort of the surroundings induces a leisurely selection of the frocks and gowns on display.

PROHIBITIONIST VOTERS WARNED

Ballots for Party Electors to be Unavailing

Leaders Urge Direct Support for Republicans

State Chairman Suggests Playing Safe

Calling attention to the fact that under the California election laws a vote for the Prohibition party electors on the November 6 ballot is not a vote for Herbert Hoover, although that party in this State is pledged to support the Republican candidate for the Presidency, J. C. Bell, State chairman of the Prohibition organization, and W. I. Bell, Los Angeles county chairman, have issued a statement asking their followers to vote for the Republican electors.

"The California Prohibition party is for Herbert Hoover." It was stated by Mr. Bell.

"In view, however, of a ruling by the Secretary of State, it is probable that votes cast for the Prohibition party Presidential electors cannot be counted for Hoover."

"In this campaign, in so far as the Prohibition party is concerned, at least, is plain and obvious. We are supporting Hoover against Smith."

"Therefore, we earnestly urge all members of our party to vote for the Republican Presidential electors. In that way they may be certain they are voting to place Hoover in the White House, and that their ballots will not be lost."

ANGELIC REPUBLICANS WIN VOTES FOR HOOVER

Two Los Angeles Republicans, who are campaigning elsewhere for Hoover and Curtis, are winning thousands of votes for the Republican ticket, according to information received here yesterday by Howard C. Hodges. The campaigners are Harry Culver, president of the National Board of Real Estate Associations, who is traveling in the Northwest in his private airplane, and Joseph Scott, Culver, who is speaking in eastern cities.

Describing Culver's success, O. R. Baum of the Idaho Republican committee telegraphed:

"Have been trailing Culver on his fast tour throughout the Northwest, and our meetings are being well attended and productive results for both State and national tickets. We feel like thanking Los Angeles county for the use of Harry Culver, who has proven a sensation in this country."

The telegram was dispatched from Pocatello, Idaho, where Baum stated three enthusiastic meetings were addressed by Culver in one day.

One Boston newspaper commented on a speech by Scott, said nearly 2000 members of the Boston City Club, gathered in their auditorium, were brought to their feet with cheers when Scott recited in Madison Square Garden four years ago were responsible for the return of the religious issue into American politics.

Scott, in a letter to the local Hoover headquarters, declared that Hoover helped his cause immeasurably in Massachusetts by his Boston speech and said that "Boston is reeling under the excitement of the Hoover campaign."

Delegations from the principal cities of Southern California will attend the formal opening tonight of Los Angeles City Organizations' Republican headquarters at 242 South Broadway. Invitations were extended to Gov. Young, Mark Requa, Hoover, Curtis and other party leaders. From them and others came telegrams of congratulation. Mr. Requa wired:

ANGELIC REPUBLICANS WIN VOTES FOR HOOVER

Two Los Angeles Republicans, who are campaigning elsewhere for Hoover and Curtis, are winning thousands of votes for the Republican ticket, according to information received here yesterday by Howard C. Hodges. The campaigners are Harry Culver, president of the National Board of Real Estate Associations, who is traveling in the Northwest in his private airplane, and Joseph Scott, Culver, who is speaking in eastern cities.

Describing Culver's success, O. R. Baum of the Idaho Republican committee telegraphed:

"Have been trailing Culver on his fast tour throughout the Northwest, and our meetings are being well attended and productive results for both State and national tickets. We feel like thanking Los Angeles county for the use of Harry Culver, who has proven a sensation in this country."

The telegram was dispatched from Pocatello, Idaho, where Baum stated three enthusiastic meetings were addressed by Culver in one day.

One Boston newspaper commented on a speech by Scott, said nearly 2000 members of the Boston City Club, gathered in their auditorium, were brought to their feet with cheers when Scott recited in Madison Square Garden four years ago were responsible for the return of the religious issue into American politics.

Scott, in a letter to the local Hoover headquarters, declared that Hoover helped his cause immeasurably in Massachusetts by his Boston speech and said that "Boston is reeling under the excitement of the Hoover campaign."

Delegations from the principal cities of Southern California will attend the formal opening tonight of Los Angeles City Organizations' Republican headquarters at 242 South Broadway. Invitations were extended to Gov. Young, Mark Requa, Hoover, Curtis and other party leaders. From them and others came telegrams of congratulation. Mr. Requa wired:

Solid South and Negroes Given Large Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (Exclusive)—Some indications of the whirlwind last two weeks' campaign which Smith manager plans to make for their candidate in doubtful border and agricultural States is shown in the financial report of the Democratic National Committee filed in the House clerk's office today. During the week between the 16th and 22nd inst., according to the report, $78,000 was sent into the Democratic treasury, $12,000 more than $30,400 received from the farm states—Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

Michael, or Mihai, as he is called in Romania, reviewed a vast parade of brilliantly accoutered troops, who saluted him as their commander-in-chief, for all that he is little more than a baby.

Democratic Chairman Says Tariff "Dead Issue"

Urge Greater Development of Domestic Market

Congressional Group Said to Indorse Policy

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—John Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, declared in a radio address tonight that more than three-fourths of the present Democratic members and candidates for Congress have signed a declaration on Democratic tariff policy embodying Gov. Smith's stand on the tariff and the tariff plank in the Democratic platform.

Mr. Raskob also declared that the prosperity for which the Republicans took full credit had resulted from eight years of Democratic rule under President Wilson.

GOOD TIMES ENDANGERED

Further good times are endangered, he asserted, because the Republicans' "protectionist scheme" makes no provision for restocking the buying power of the farmers and building up the domestic market.

The domestic market, he maintained, is the chief factor in the prosperity of the American industry.

ILLINOIS CUT SHORT

The Illinois aldermen will be divided between Representative Babcock, who received $5000 to finance the activities of his Al Smith-for-President forces, language being used.

Rep. Babcock's cut was given $2000.

NEW PASSENGER DEPOT ASSURED

Union Pacific Plans Station for East Los Angeles

Work on Project Scheduled to Start Immediately

Buses Will Provide Link With Outlying Areas

Official and practical recognition of the growing importance of East Los Angeles and the triangular area incorporated between the cities of Pasadena, East San Pedro and Anaheim is given in the announcement yesterday by the Union Pacific system of a new passenger station to be erected at the intersection of Atlantic Boulevard and Telegraph Road. The new depot will be known as the East Los Angeles station. It will afford passengers in a wide range of territory an opportunity to reach their homes or get to the train without the necessity of going through the heavy traffic of metropolitan Los Angeles.

Coincident with the completion of the East Los Angeles station, work on it is to be started at once, and which will involve an ultimate cost of upward of $100,000, will be the inauguration of a parlor car bus service to a score of communities, giving each an improved service all through passengers to and from points in the Los Angeles area. However, these buses will not engage in any intercity traffic along their routes.

EAST SIDE BUILDING UP

In its operation the new Union Pacific East Los Angeles station will have a situation very similar to that of Englewood, just outside of the heart of Chicago. The East Los Angeles area has been developed over the two years, and additional negotiations for more plants are under way which will insure still more rapid growth.

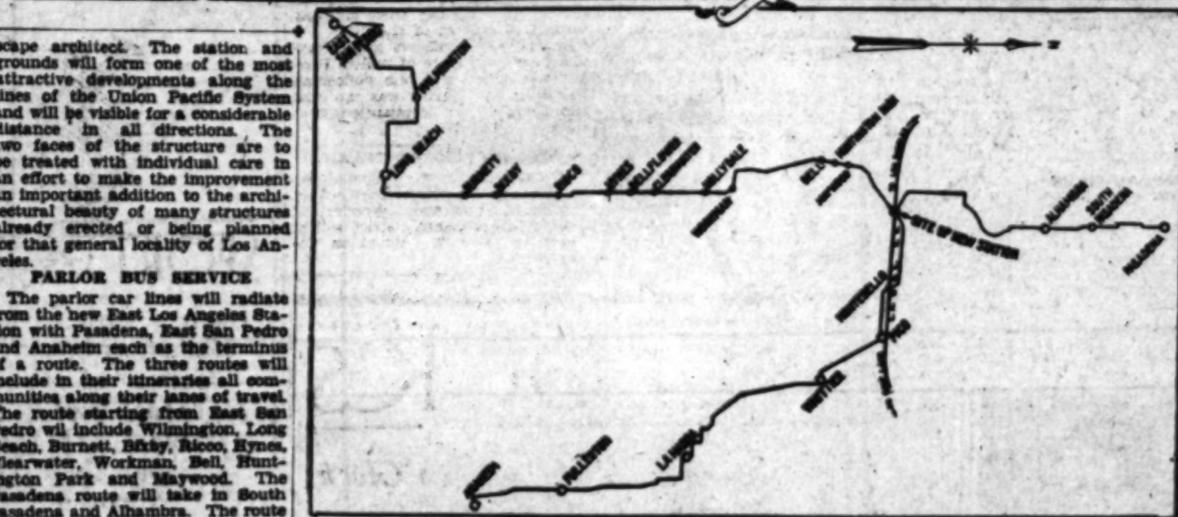

The East Los Angeles station, plans for which were completed by Gilbert Stanley Underwood, Los Angeles architect, will represent an effort to recreate the old Spanish atmosphere of early California. In design it is said to be of light stucco, cypress and old Spanish tiling of hand-made tile laid in irregular courses to give vibration in the sunlight. The building will stretch out some 144 feet in length along the right of way to the corner of Telegraph Road and Atlantic Boulevard and Industrial Avenue. It will be unique among passenger stations in that it will respond to the climate of Southern California and provide not only an indoor waiting-room for the most inclement days, but also an outdoor waiting-room for the sunny days of summer.

SCENIC APPROACH

The interior waiting-room is designed in the old Spanish manner with exposed wooden trusses and roof beams, and hung with hand-hammered iron lighting fixtures. The exterior windows on one side of the building, exposed on three sides and arranged with heavy wood-paneled ceiling. Ample rest rooms, smoking-rooms and other facilities also will be provided.

The approach to the East Los Angeles station from Telegraph Road will be through a winding road which rises to the level of the track and which will be bordered by attractive flowers and shrubs laid out by Daniel R. Hull, land-

After once being rebuffed by a nurse at a local hospital police yesterday were able to interview Mrs. Fern Patterson, 23 years of age, and to ascertain that she had knowingly taken the draught of wood alcohol that placed her in a hospital cot as a possible victim of bootleg gin poisoning Wednesday night.

Dr. R. R. Mueller of 301 South Normandie street, was called to attend Miss Patterson Wednesday night at her home, 731 South Broadway. He discovered her to be unconscious as wood-alcohol poisoning and had her transferred to the hospital. Yesterday Detective-Captain Cato and Detective-Lieutenants Thompson and Neiman of the Wilshire police finally were able to learn that she knew the alcohol to be poison. She refused to give any reason for her act. She is expected to leave the hospital today.

One measure on the election ballot, Proposition No. 2, stands forth in the expressed judgment of business men, working men, educators and sportsmen as an opportunity rather than an issue, according to officials of the California Tenth Olympic Association.

"Yes" votes for it will ratify the legislative provision of $1,000,000 State aid for the bringing of the 1932 games to Los Angeles.

Business leaders of the State predicted that the "yes" vote will bring definite benefits to the State in an economic way will dwarf the amount of the State's investment many times.

Officials of the California Tenth Olympic Association, say the nation's daily getting more interested in the prospect of coming to California in 1932.

Protests against the proposed introduction of Eighty avenue from Sixteenth avenue to Sixteenth street will be heard by the City Council today.

TAX-CAMPAIGN PLANS FORMED

Manager Robert D. Sangster of the local chamber's industrial department, Los Angeles in 1929 produced $15 per cent of Los Angeles' total tax revenue from corporations which had a value of $964,500,000 and which in turn was 26 per cent of the California production.

It is set forth as conceivable from these figures, that Los Angeles' country's manufacturers, considered at this time, are capable of considerably nearer 50 per cent of the State's production.

Something of Los Angeles' great industrial progress is conveyed by the statistical compilation which the United States census of 1920, evidence an increase for the six-year period of 31 per cent in the number of establishments, 49.8 per cent in value added by manufacture, 20 per cent in wage total and 37.8 per cent in value of manufactured output.

Mr. Sangster takes the position that it is when the compilations are compared that the corporation products for 1927 are found to have kept proportionate with those of the city of Los Angeles, on the basis of 1920 ratios, the country's value total for last year will aggregate more than the $960,000,000.

WORK EXPLAINED

He read copies of a letter from the Tax Commission to Gov. Young in which this liberal attitude was exemplified by agreeing to propose to the Legislature that holding companies will be exempted from double taxation; capital gains to be deferred only until January 1, 1929; reasonable allowances given for oil and mining corporations owning wasting properties, and the present Federal income tax deducted prior to the computation of the State tax.

Mr. McDevitt stressed the importance of the low rate on intangibles, which this amendment will accomplish. He said the present unjust law on these securities keeps many thousands of people from making their homes in California and said the assessors of the entire State are for a change which will permit these securities to come out of hiding.

Mr. Carnahan told of the work of the Tax Commission in its efforts to be just, and also brought forth to the attention of his hearers the necessity of taking action on the intangible question. He said the present amendment is but one part of the program of tax revision which the commission will offer the Legislature.

Chicagoans Come West to Hold Conferences on Trade Outlook

For the purpose of making a complete inspection trip over their western territory, and to attend their annual zone meeting scheduled for Del Monte on the 29th and 30th inst., six officials of the Crane Company, plumbers' supplies, of Chicago, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday aboard the private car Northern on the Southern Pacific Argonaut.

Headed by R. T. Crane, Jr., president of the company, a party consists of John M. Hermann, first vice-president; H. W. Seymour, general manager; D. G. Parker, second vice-president; R. E. Stiles, third vice-president, and C. R. Crane II, assistant vice-president.

The party was met here by L. B. Peppin, vice-president in charge of the Southern California territory with headquarters in Los Angeles.

The party will stop at the Hillmore until Sunday evening, when they will leave for Del Monte for the annual meeting of the western managers. This meeting will bring together more than twenty-five western representatives from Seattle to San Diego and from as far east as Denver, Colo.

After the annual conference, the party will inspect conditions in the western territory as far as will lay plans for the ensuing business year.

The Crane Company recently purchased the Lily Foundry and Iron Works in this city and this property will be used over for possible expansion program this year.

None of the visiting officials would talk yesterday on the business outcome of the annual conference, but they mentioned the trip direct from Chicago and have not yet looked over the ground.

Germany by next February will have in operation the greatest radio station in the world, and it is promised that almost any receiving set on the face of the globe will be able to tune in and listen. The Hungarian Premier or President of the Assembly has the legal right to veto, censor or suppress any oration or speech considered unwise or subversive of the public good. Charlie Dawes would give a good deal if such a muzzle could be fastened on the American Senate. What a roar would go up if this process of muzzling were attempted in the land of the free!SEEKING SANTA CLAUS
The Democratic National Committee admits the collection of nearly $3,000,000 for its campaign fund. Of this tidy sum more than $600,000 was contributed by eight persons. One particular Santa Claus, who is an intimate friend and associate of the New York Governor, has forked over a trifle of $170,000 to bolster his cause. Chairman Raskob himself is said to have slipped $100,000 into the pot. The Republicans are neither seeking nor accepting big subscriptions but have enlisted and gained the support of a large army of small contributors.VOTING IN NEW YORK
Two outstanding features of the election in New York are strongly engaging the attention of the Manhattan press, and are leading to much speculation. One is the literacy test of new voters. Under the new law no illiterate person wishing to vote for the first time will be permitted to cast a ballot. This is presumed to be a sad blow for Tammany, which previously herded ignorant voters to the polls and voted them by the thousands.

New York had 281,000 illiterates in 1920. Many of these have received voting age only in recent years. Except in the Richmond and Queens' districts, voters will use machines. Three minutes will be allowed for each vote, though one minute is said to be ample.

The literacy test is being ridiculed by some of the New York newspapers. The Evening Post points out examples of its application. "One candidate for registration," says the Post satirically, "made the awful blunder of saying that Columbus was born in Geneva when he was supposed to say Italy, and was denied registration. The applicant was a Columbia graduate."

But the amazing feature of the election is the enormous number of persons registered—35 per cent increase over that of 1924, the total being more than 2,300,000. New Yorkers usually do not take as much interest in a Presidential election as this great increase signifies. It is by no means due to increased population, for according to the government estimate of 8,017,500, published on the 3rd inst., the increase has been less than 10 per cent since 1924 and less than 20 per cent since 1920.

The phenomenal increase in registration is said to be largely due to the unusual interest women are taking in the campaign. Many are friends of prohibition, and wish to express their opposition to the Smith plan for modification. Like other American women, they want no tampering with the Eighteenth Amendment.

FITTING AN INDUSTRY
The doubtless well-meant effort to stop asserted cruelty to animals at rodeos, which will appear as Proposition 21 on the November ballot, unfortunately overshoots the mark. With its ostensible purpose there can be no quarrel. Everyone is in favor of requiring that animals be treated kindly, that no unnecessary suffering be inflicted upon them. But this result is unnecessary to achieve this result; and besides it is so carelessly drawn that, whether intentionally or not, it strikes a severe blow at the livestock industry.

This does not become apparent from the proposition as it appears on the ballot, and those who read no more than this condensed form are apt to be deceived thereby. But Section 2 of the measure is not limited to rodeos; it applies to every ranch, farm and range in the State; and in the opinion of cattlemen it would so hamper the cattle business if not impossible. It would be unlawful, for instance, for a rancher to use a twich or twist to hold a fractious animal while it is being clipped, shod or broken, under the provisions of this measure.

The last phrase of Section 1 of the bill is another example of the absurdly drastic conditions it seeks to impose. This prohibits "exciting any animal by the use of electric or other prods OR ANY OTHER MEANS WHATSOEVER." If this phrase means anything it means that a polo player could not urge his mount even with his voice during the entire course of a match or run the danger of being locked up as a misdeemeanor! The use of whip or spur during a horse race would be punishable by a jail sentence. Even shouts or words of encouragement would be forbidden, because they are undoubtedly means of "exciting" an animal. The mechanical rabbit used in dog-racing would be absolutely taboo!

It should be noted, also, that the bill in its entirety applies not only to rodeos, but to horse races, horse shows, horseracing exhibitions, Spanish fiestas, polo games, and stock shows at fairs; its prohibitions apply to all "sport, exhibition or amusement."

As to the rodeo, the attacks upon it are based largely upon false premises. In fact, all the genuinely objectionable features of such exhibitions have either been eliminated already or are forbidden by existing statute, under penalties twice as severe as those proposed in Proposition 21. If there is still cruelty to animals at rodeos, the proper way to stop it is by enforcing the present law, not by putting a new law on the statute books easier to enforce than the old one.

"Bulldogging," one of the acts prohibited, is a thing of the past in California rodeos in the full meaning of the term. The bulldogged animals are no longer thrown; they are merely stopped. "High-living," another thing at which the act is aimed, has never been permitted in this State, and has never been done at the principal rodeos. In the opinion of competent judges, the other acts which the bills seek to stop are not actually cruel to animals, but are legitimate and necessary features if rodeos are to be conducted at all.

If this proposition is adopted the rodeo will be at an end; there is no doubt of that. Yet the rodeo, properly conducted, is an innocent, instructive and typically Californian exhibition, materially increasing tourist interest. It has the color and western atmosphere which is a potent magnet in drawing visitors to the State.

But more important than the rodeo is the live-stock industry, which is and will be for years to come vital to California. This industry is against the proposition practically to a man.

WORLD WOMEN
Forty-three conventions drew 19,000 visitors to the city of Los Angeles in July, August and September. The Chamber of Commerce also reports 275,000 attending the air meet and 117,000 the radio show.

Without rush of wings, fanfare or fuss, however, another convention has been gathering in this city from all parts of the world. Hundreds of international officers and missionaries of the general executive board of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society are holding open sessions in the First Methodist Episcopal Church throughout this week.

The following bishops are addressing the various sessions: Charles Wesley Burns of San Francisco; Charles Edward Locke, formerly of Los Angeles, but now of Minneapolis; Charles Bayard Mitchell, formerly of the Philippines; Titus Lowe of Portland, Or., and W. M. F. Warne of India.

This organization is one of the most efficient bodies of its kind in the foreign field. It travels on its own power without overhead; its executive officers are without salaries, which eat up so many good projects. As a result, while occasionally other church work languishes, this flourishes.

The woes of "Mother India" have appealed to the great sisterhood of the race. Women who have come into their own in this country aspire to share their benefits with all their kind.

The least contentious operations are often fraught with the greatest consequences. Values cannot always be appraised by press agency. Telling in silence and unheeded, the faithful commit potencies as well as peasants to good works. Women are especially qualified. Unnoticed they slip into homes without arousing suspicion. They have entree where men are denied.

As woman is giving the Hoover campaign its greatest impact and is making political colorful, this is but an aside compared with her larger enthusiasm for the women and children of the world.

Prohibition began in earnest with women securing the teaching of the ill effects of alcohol in our public schools. Politicians were deceived by the very timidity and innocence of the approach.

"Nothing but a lot of women" was the superficial appraisal of the movement. The women waited. They had been schooled to that. The generation grew to adulthood and the Eighteenth Amendment was its crystallization.

Considering the millions which other Tammany leaders have taken from politics, Smith is perhaps to be commended for taking only a modest cut.

But these two shades of the plum tree indicate that Smith is not so different from other Tammany men as his more enthusiastic boosters try to make it appear.

Tammany, all the time, is a Tammany that is working for its own pocket. Granted that other political organizations elsewhere are no better, it still remains to be pointed out that these other organizations are not running any of their members for the Presidency.

LIVING THINGS
We notice that giving the vote to women has had a great purifying influence on politics. But nobody else seems to have yet noticed it. That's what comes from having good eyesight.

The LEE SIDE OF LA

By Lee Shippey

"EAST is East and West is West," wrote O. Henry. But that was twenty years ago. Now East is East and West is Los Angeles.

Oh, San Francisco isn't off the map. Far from it. It is one of the world's most interesting cities. It's one of the reasons why many tourists come to Los Angeles—it's so easy to reach from here. The same is true of Hawaii and Mexico and the High Sierras and the ever-green playground of the Northwest. What we mean is that Los Angeles has become the recognized base of operations, the place tourists have in mind when they come west, and from which they can step out to all the other places if they wish to do so—and have the money left. Every year hundreds of thousands of people come here with the intention of seeing Los Angeles first, and as many of the other places as they can.

Van Dyke, director of that truly artistic picture, "White Shadows in the South Seas," and Raquel Torres, Van Dyke told us that before they went to Tahiti to "shoot" the picture they had endeavored to write a story which would be accurate in every detail, and had studied books on Tahiti sedulously—the most authoritative books obtainable. And the atmosphere when they landed in Tahiti that he had to rewrite it. "The Governor wanted to read it," he said, "and I was afraid that if he read it as it was first written he would throw us all off the island."

We'll bet there isn't a good reporter in Los Angeles who hasn't have conveyed a better idea of what really exists in Tahiti than those literary fellers had conveyed.

Readers for Navy

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21—[TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:] Thank you for your editorial "Respect the Uniform" which appeared in the Times of October 19. The "thief" to whom you referred applied at this office for enlistment and, as you surmised, was rejected without the opportunity of making out an application. The Navy is, as you say, not a reform school and men who are hand-picked. I take the liberty of quoting briefly from "Instructions for Recruiting Officers."

"The recruiting service of the Navy deals with the selection of desirable workmen. To be effective it must base its work on careful investigation. It is the employment department."

"The Navy should not be asked to train enlisted men who within a month after reporting will prove to be boys who have run away from home, wife deserters, probation breakers, escaped convicts, feeble minded, or insane persons."

FIRE FIGHTERS TO QUESTION

The deal which promises to bring to California and probably Los Angeles the airplane factory of the $4,000,000 Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America is one of the best for this area that has been announced in a long time. It is a testimonial to the industrial status of California, as well as to the climatic conditions which make the region favorable for aircraft operation.

A Anthony Fokker is perhaps the world's best-known aircraft designer, with a record for the production of more than 16,000 airplanes. There are said to be more Fokker planes in successful use today than any other make, and the success of the company seems assured from the start. All the aircraft factories of the country are doing a rushing business and the Fokker factory here undoubtedly will soon have a pay roll that will contribute materially to the prosperity of Southern California.

Anthony Fokker himself, the other man connected with the company are for the most part already connected with commercial aviation in one way or another, several with the Western Air Express, though the new company will be independent of any other. This is a guarantee that the operations of the company will be conducted along sound and conservative lines by men who know what they are about.

APPORTIONMENT GIVEN SUPPORT

Pomona Sees Southland for Proposal

Mark Potter Issues Plea for Backing Number 1

Eventual Representation Seen as Ample

Southern California as a whole is supporting Proposition No. 1 in the November ballot, generally known as the Federal reapportionment plan, according to Mark H. Potter, Pomona business man and Republican leader, who in a statement issued yesterday urged Los Angeles city and county citizens to vote for the proposal.

Great interest in the referendum is to prevent amendment of the legislative act of 1927. Mr. Potter believes, will result in benefits to the entire southern portion of the State, as a "yes" vote on this proposition will favor enforcement of the constitutionality of the act, which may allow the people to 1928 and permit immediate settlement of the reapportionment problem.

His statement follows in part:

"At this time it is anticipated by the people of the city of Los Angeles realize what the people of Southern California are thinking of regarding the question of reapportionment. After a careful investigation throughout Southern California I find that the people of Southern California are in favor of reapportionment according to the plan that was passed at the election two years ago."

"This year the question will be No. 1 on the ballot. The following illustrations indicate that Southern California is being better represented in the Legislature: The newspapers carried an item the other day from San Francisco stating that they are planning to amend the present state tax. In order to enable a bridge to be built over the Bay of San Francisco, as a part of the highway system.

"At the present time several millions of gas-tax money, which has been sent to Southern California under the provisions of the Broadbill, have been accumulated. Unless we in Southern California are on our toes, they will find a way to use it for us."

"If we vote yes for No. 1, and the amendment is passed, the representation of Southern California will have taken the first step toward protecting themselves against the unjust discriminations that have been practiced against them during the past two years."

"There is no other provision on the ballot providing for reapportionment. The old law was passed in 1888 and the last reapportionment was made in 1918, which is the one we are using at the present time and will continue to use unless we vote for No. 1 at the election this fall.

"Under the so-called Federal plan which is in the offing we will have to support Southern California, according to the census of 1920, would have thirty-three Assemblymen out of a total of eighty. San Francisco and the bay cities would have eighteen. We can see why No. 1 we will be in a position to have almost 50 per cent more representation after the next reapportionment, according to the Federal census of 1930, which would increase the number of Assemblymen approximately fifty Assemblymen."

"The provision of No. 1 in regard to State Senators will not suit everyone, but half a loaf is better than no loaf, especially as we have been eighteen years without reapportionment in a State where the population has changed as much as it has in California."

Nagging Plea Wins Divorce

For much of their twenty-eight years of married life, William A. Garnett nagged his wife, Mrs. Sadie A. Garnett, according to her testimony at the hearing on her petition for a divorce yesterday before Superior Judge Engs. A decree was granted.

The community property consists of the family home at 2130 New York avenue, Pasadena.

SUCHIQUOMO, fabled demon of Japanese folk-lore, will appear in Los Angeles the night of the 20th inst. when the Noh Play will be presented at the Japanese pavilion of the Kita Noguchi Club of this city, for the benefit of the Kobe College for Women. Prof. T. Ninomiya will play the difficult role of the demon. The play is in three acts and will be given in Japanese at the Friday Morning Club playhouse. The theme of the play is woven around the Shogun Yorimatsu Minamoto, who lived about the end of the eleventh century. It depicted prominent superstitions beliefs in spirits, demons, and magic swords played in the life and literature of Japan during that period.

Esther Ralston Will Go Abroad After Present Film; Marie Dressler Returns from Long Stay in Europe; Marie Wells Signing With First National

BY GRACE KINGSLY

Tim McCoy would seem to be fastening up our history of the Southwest as a subject for pictures. We wonder how long historic occurrences will hold out at the rate he is going. However, Tim is safe at present. He has a story.

His next Moto-Goidewa starring vehicle will be called "Desert Law." The plot has to do with the ratification of the Spanish war debts, which created so much trouble in the United States government in the early '90s in California, and which carries the colorful regions of California's missions and deserts as a background.

Nick Grinde has been assigned to direct the picture, and is likely to do a good job.

Wheeler Oakman has been creating such a pleasing impression in "White Shadows of the South Seas," will play the leading feminine role, that of a Spanish girl, Miss Tracy, as well as a romantic character formerly unknown to the Chinese theater before she was discovered and put into pictures.

The story is an original by Ted Stoddard and Milton Green, and Oliver Drake wrote the adaptation and continuity.

Various interesting location trips will be made, including possibly a trip to New Mexico.

LASKY STAR THRILLED AT THOUGHT OF TRIP

Esther Ralston is going to Europe, the gods and Lasky officials being willing, just as soon as she completes her current Paramount picture.

The Case of Lena Smith, which

Josef Von Sternberg is directing.

The picture will require at least six weeks more in the filming.

"I've never been in Europe," said Miss Ralston, "and I am very anxious to go. I mean to spend three or four months shopping in Paris and visiting London, Berlin and Rome, not to mention which I have always longed to see.

"I shall expect to spend Christmas in England, home of the most wonderful Christmas festivals, and see the famous holiday pantomimes."

Marie Dressler Returns

Marie Dressler has returned from Europe, whether she traveled away back last May, and, despite her indisputable size and fame, she managed to keep out of town quietly and unobserved. She is staying at her home in Los Angeles, and is expected to return to pictures.

While abroad

Miss Dressler visited Max Reinhardt in Berlin and Hofburg. At Austria, where he is putting on some of his old plays, and where he is considering the possibility of coming to America, Miss Dressler says.

Venice is a favorite resort of Miss Dressler's, and one of her pleasantest recollections of that place during her stay is that of listening to grand opera singing in St. Mark's Square, where a huge opera house has been erected.

The talking pictures greatly interest Miss Dressler, and doubtless they will interest her in her immediate future, as she has been working on some of her old plays, and where she is considering the possibility of coming to America.

Doctor Denies Responsibility for Girl's Death

excuse can be found for the accident, which occurred in the hospital, Dr. A. B. Cade said yesterday.

Tillim denies that he is responsible with her admission to the hospital or the aid or assistance nurses present, or that he took the operation.

He charges that Tillim has been negligent in the handling of the accident, which occurred in the hospital, and that he is responsible for the accident.

The Big Sister, Leopoldine, and Zeta Sigma also during the operation also fled an answer to the charges in which they say they have no information and that they do not know where he is.

They deny the guilt of negligence, which is any accident directly to the child.

The death of the woman, who was accused yesterday at the time, was held at the door of Tillim and a coroner's jury which heard the case.

Postponement of the senior class play, "The Show-Off," of the University of Southern California until January 15, 1929, has been announced by Paul Kiepe, play productions manager. Difficulty in obtaining stage rights coupled with a demand for more nights in Auditorium forced the postponement.

Candidates Unnamed But Preference Indicated

Although the names of no candidates or political parties were mentioned, the members of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society at their session yesterday, left no room for doubt as to the disposal of their votes on November 6.

"You and I and 28,000,000 other women in the United States," said Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, president, "today have the things for which Susan B. Anthony and others of our kind were persecuted in former days. But among us are many who are rocking-chair saints, who stay at home and let bad men make laws. Forty-nine per cent of the voters in the country are women. We must make up our minds to not use their ballots in the next two Presidential elections. This election involves the most important and critical moral issue that has faced us since the 60's and it is important that every one of us drag the rocking-chair saints out to the polls. The rest of us are already committed to the principles which have been drawn up for us in the form of a resolution."

RESOLUTION

The resolution follows: "In view of the national and worldwide importance of the issues to be decided upon election day, November 6, 1928, we, Christian women and loyal citizens of the United States, irrespective of political party affiliation, urge that we, as an organization and as individuals, work out our ultimate understanding." WHAT WOMEN WANT

One of the chief speakers of the afternoon session was Mrs. Lena Leonard Fisher, professor of the history of religions at the University of Southern California. Her subject was "Sisters Under the Skin," and deals with a pity analysis of what the different women of the world want.

"We recommend that we are sisters under the skin," Mrs. Fisher declared. "The universal fundamental trait of mother concern for her children is enough proof of that. Summed up briefly, what we all want is that every human being with the rest of the world to live and achieve. We want a square chance at physical emancipation, spiritual growth and social justice. American women, in a great measure, have achieved these things. Physical emancipation we see in married women, and lengthened life lines, both of which, I hope have raised our skylines. And the other things we have acquired after long years of bitterness and struggle."

Oriental women, she said, want exactly the same things, the result of which the oriental world today is in a ferment. Masculine opinion on these old prejudices dies hard, but on her last trip around the world, she said, the saw evidence everywhere that these women are achieving their goal. Bound feet are disappearing, veils have been banished by Turkish law, and she hopes with them, the veil that obscures the mind and spirit. The spirit of life is growing, the women are claiming the right to medical attention when they are ill, divorce laws are becoming as strict for the men as for the women, wives are no longer sold, and surely throwing off their sex inferiority, assuming positions of leadership and entering professions of every variety.

IN NORTH AFRICA

Miss Martha Robinson related her experiences among the Kabyles, the mountain tribes of North Africa. There is a superstitious idea of fear and fatalism among the people, she said, and some of the problems with which they must contend are those of girls sold in marriage by their fathers, women divorced because they are ill or have not borne the proper sons, and are turned out to wander with no rights over their other children, or of the women who are deserted with large families to care for.

The highest education in Mexico's only salvation, was the assertion of Miss Blanche Betz, who said that the percentage of illiteracy is startling and that last year three out of every four babies died before the age of one year. Government recognition of the school at Pueblo is one of their greatest present needs, she said.

Other reports were given by Miss Mabel Foster on the Crandon Institute in Romania, building in Bulgaria by Miss Edith Peck, the need for stimulating an interest in missionary work among college students by Mrs. H. M. Lester, and an account of the influence of Christianity in her life by Mrs. Arthur K. Stigino, a Japanese woman.

The morning sessions were devoted largely to a discussion of the home work of the society, with a review of the various publications of the organization and a short talk, "Concerning Ourselves," by Mrs. William Frazer McDowell, former president.

Plans for the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the society next year were outlined by Mrs. Charles J. Johnson of New York City.

Meetings of the missionary society will be held Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Eighth and Hope streets. Mrs. Thomas Nicholson presided at the morning session yesterday and Mrs. Charles J. Johnson acted as chairman for the afternoon. Today's sessions begin at 9 a.m. and continue through the evening.

The new broadcasting stations at Nagoya, Japan, will cost nearly $3,000,000.

In her complaint Mrs. Beidler charges desertion.

U.S.C. ANNOUNCES GIFT

Andrew M. Chaffey, President of California Bank, Donates $50,000 to Semicentennial Fund

The semicentennial commission of the University of Southern California yesterday announced the gift of $50,000 from Andrew M. Chaffey, president of the California Bank, to the semicentennial fund. Mr. Chaffey is treasurer of the university's board of trustees. An announcing the gift the commission made public the following statement from Mr. Chaffey:

"The University of Southern California, which is nearing its fifth year of service to this city and this section of the country, is annually offering opportunities for collegiate and professional training to an army of more than 18,000 young men and women of the Southwest. Many of these young people would have to forego a higher education if it were not for the professional officers at their very doors. What this means to this community is incalculable."

SUIT MAY BE SETTLED

Compromises Indicated in Case Against Maywood Police Chief

The suit of Harold R. Plaisted against A. J. Haws, Chief of Police of Maywood, for $40,000 damages, may be settled out of court, it was stated by counsel when the case came up for trial yesterday before Judge McLean.

Plaisted complains that Haws beat him with a blackjack. Haws asserts he arrested Plaisted for disturbing the peace with belligerent language. Plaisted is accused of assaulting the Maywood police chief.

The grand total of the semicentennial fund is estimated to be at $1,200,000, which includes the gift of Mr. Chaffey. The trial of the suit was continued to next January, because of the prospect of settlement.

Council Backs Bond Issue for State Building

Indorsement of the $1,000,000 bond issue on the November 6 ballot to purchase a site for a State government building in Los Angeles was yesterday given by the City Council.

Councilman Davis, who presented the resolution of indorsement, said that the State has appropriated $1,200,000 for the building and that this sum will be none unless the local council vote to buy the site is authorized. The saving to the people of the city and county in time and money by having the State's own building here is to be had, Davis said, as the State now pays large rentals in Los Angeles for scattered offices.

BAY CITY MAN FLIES TO ATTEND CONCERT

Due to the fact that air passenger service was available, Charles P. Bullett, business man of San Francisco, who is also noted for his ability to entertain, came to a Bohemian Club concert in Oakland last night after having attended a dinner in Pasadena in honor of R. H. Ballard. Mr. Bullett came down especially to pay tribute to the city and its youth.

The grand total of the semicentennial fund is estimated to be at $1,200,000, which includes the gift of Mr. Chaffey. The trial of the suit was continued to next January, because of the prospect of settlement.

1169 The Story of American Industry.
Whaling (Part Four)—the Perils of Whaling.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

No occupation or sport could boast of more thrills or dangers than whale hunting in the 'fifties. Often, when harpooned, a maddened whale would charge and capsize the small whaleboat or knock it to splinters with one blow of its huge tail.

Not infrequently one of the small boats that had made fast to a whale was carried far out of sight of the ship. In such cases the hunters often drifted aimlessly for days before being picked up. Sometimes they were never found.

Nor were all the perils confined to the chase in the small boats. There are cases on record of whaling ships themselves that were sent to the bottom by being rammed by whales.

At times, pursuing whalers would drift into arctic waters, where they would be trapped in the ice fields and crushed between the ice floes.
